From Tuesday July 22, to Saturday July 26, 1746.

AT the Court at Kenſington, the 23d Day of July, 1746.

PRESENT,

The King's moſt Excellent Majeſty in Council.

This Day the Right Honourable Henry Fox, Eſq; his Majeſty's Secretary at War, was, by his Majeſty's Command, ſworn of his Majeſty's moſt Honourable Privy Council, and took his Place at the Board accordingly.

The following Addreſs of the Juſtices of the Peace and Grand Jury, aſſembled at a General Quarter Seſſions held the 17th of July 1746. for the County of Kent, has been tranſmitted to his Grace the Duke of Dorſet, who preſented the ſame to his Majeſty: Which Addreſs his Majeſty was pleaſed to receive very graciouſly.

To the King's moſt Excellent Majeſty,

The humble Addreſs of the Juſtices of the Peace and Grand Jury, aſſembled at a General Quarter Seſſions held the 17th Day of July 1746. for the County of Kent, at Maidſtone in the ſaid County.

May it pleaſe your Majeſty,

IT is with the greateſt Pleaſure and Sincerity we congratulate your Majeſty on the Succeſs of your Arms under his Royal Highneſs the Duke of Cumberland, by which ſo happy an End is put to the deteſtable Rebellion rais'd in your Britiſh Dominions, in Favour of Popiſh Superſtition and French Politicks.

We cannot ſufficiently adore the Goodneſs of God in preſerving us from the impending Danger, acknowledge your Majeſty's Wiſdom in appointing his Royal Highneſs to command your Forces, and admire the Valour and Intrepidity with which they followed his glorious Example in that deciſive Action, which ſecured to us the Continuance of our Religion, Laws and Liberties, under your Majeſty's juſt and mild Adminiſtration.

The due Senſe of the Benefits of this Deliverance cannot fail to confirm in us Sentiments of Loyalty to your Majeſty, of Zeal for our holy Religion, and of Gratitude to the Providence which gave it; under whoſe Guidance and Protection may your Majeſty proceed to defeat all your Enemies; and may the Crown of theſe Realms ever flouriſh on your Majeſty, and your illuſtrious Poſterity in a Proteſtant Line.

The humble Addreſs of the Juſtices of the Peace of the County of Stafford, has been preſented to his Majeſty by the Right Honourable the Earl Gower: Which Addreſs his Majeſty was pleaſed to receive very graciouſly.

To the King's moſt Excellent Majeſty.

May it pleaſe your Majeſty,

WE your Majeſty's Juſtices of the Peace of the County of Stafford, aſſembled at the General Quarter Seſſions of the Peace held for the ſaid County, the 15th Day of July 1746. (being the firſt Opportunity of our publick Meeting ſince the Battle of Culloden) humbly beg Leave to congratulate your Majeſty upon the glorious Succeſs of your Forces there, under the Command of his Royal Highneſs the Duke, over your Majeſty's ungrateful and rebellious Subjects, encouraged and ſupported by the Crowns of France and Spain, declared Enemies to our Religious and Civil Rights: And at the ſame Time we beg Leave to acknowledge your Majeſty's Goodneſs and Wiſdom in ſending his Royal Highneſs the Duke to quell that unnatural and daring Rebellion.

That your Majeſty may enjoy a long and happy Reign, and that your Poſterity may ſucceed to govern a grateful and a free People, are the earneſt Wiſhes of,

May it pleaſe your Majeſty,
Your Majeſty's moſt faithful and loyal Subjects, &c.

[Price Two-pence.]

The

The following Addreſs of the Governor and Upper Houſe of the Aſſembly of the Province of Maryland, has been preſented to his Majeſty by the Right Honourable the Lord Baltimore, being introduced by the Right Honourable the Earl Cowper, one of the Lords of his Majeſty's Bed-chamber in Waiting: Which Addreſs his Majeſty was pleaſed to receive very graciouſly.

To the King's moſt Excellent Majeſty,

The humble Addreſs of the Governor and the Upper Houſe of Aſſembly of your Majeſty's Province of Maryland.

WE your Majeſty's moſt dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Governor and the Upper Houſe of Aſſembly of your Majeſty's Province of Maryland, in Aſſembly convened, being truly ſenſible of thoſe many Bleſſings we enjoy, in the Security of all that is dear to us, under the Protection of your Majeſty, cannot but be juſtly alarmed with that unnatural Inſurrection in Favour of a Popiſh Pretender to your Majeſty's Crown.

Rebellion and Civil War are ſo horrible in themſelves, that every Well-wiſher to his Country muſt deteſt the Authors and Supporters; but when they are ſet on Foot, and carried on in a Proteſtant Nation, govern'd by a King acting in a ſtrict Conformity with the Laws made for the Preſervation of its Liberties, in order to fill the Throne with a Perſon educated in the Bigotry and Superſtition of the Romiſh Church, and thoroughly inſtructed in the ſlaviſh Maxims and Arts of the Courts of France and Spain, every Man muſt be amazed at the Madneſs, and every Proteſtant Subject fired with the ſtrongeſt Reſentment at the Baſeneſs and Ingratitude of ſuch Attempts, ſince a juſt and good King has an undoubted Right to the Returns of a moſt grateful Loyalty, Duty, and Affection, and that it is impoſſible our Religion ſhould be maintain'd by the Councils of Jeſuits, or our Liberties ſecured by the Friendſhip and arbitrary Politicks of France or Spain.

Theſe, Moſt Gracious Sovereign, are our ſincere Principles, and although our Diſtance may prevent the Effects of our Loyalty and Affection, in the immediate Defence of your Majeſty's ſacred Perſon; yet we are reſolved (agreeable to our Aſſociation for that Purpoſe) not to be backward in any Inſtance, where we may be called upon, or expected to demonſtrate to, the Hazard of our Lives and Fortunes, what we owe to ourſelves, our Country, and the beſt of Kings, in the Maintenance and Support of your Majeſty's Authority, and conſequently of our own Religion and Liberties.

Naples, July 5. The King has conſented to the Repreſentations of the Deputation of the Health, for diſmiſſing the Troops which formed the Lines in Calabria, ſince, for theſe ſixteen Months paſt, no Signs of epidemical Sickneſs has been diſcover'd in theſe Parts.

Florence, July 12. We hear from Lombardy, that a Body of 5000 Men, commanded by M. Mirepoix, who were to attempt to ſurprize Pavia, had been repulſed three Times by the Sardinian Troops, with the Loſs of about 2500 Men, and were obliged to leave moſt of their Ladders, and many Boats for the Uſe of a Bridge, which they had brought in Waggons. The French and Spaniſh Army have ſince poſted themſelves at Codogno, extending with a large Detachment to Lodi, in order to receive from that Part of the Country, ſuch Supply of Neceſſaries as they are able to get. They have fortified themſelves both at Codogno and Lodi, and keep their Bridge of Communication over the Po, to ſuccour the Garriſon of Placentia. The Infant and the Duke of Modena are at Lodi. Their Army ſuffers extremely for Want of Neceſſaries, and the Deſertion amongſt their Troops is conſiderable. The Auſtrians by their Batteries have greatly damaged the Buildings of Placentia, and killed many of the Inhabitants, who are put to the utmoſt Diſtreſs for Want of Subſiſtance; and it is reported that there are in that City upwards of 10,000 ſick.

Whitehall, July 26.

Yeſterday about One o'Clock in the Afternoon, his Royal Highneſs the Duke of Cumberland arrived at the Palace of Kenſington from the North, and immediately waited on his Majeſty.
